DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election without traverse of Group I in the reply filed on 06 September 2005 is acknowledged. It is noted that claims 1, 4-8, and 15-26 will also be examined with the elected group.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 4-8, 10-13, 15-26, and 28-32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Arends et al. (US 4, 306,474) in view of Wittek (US 1,796,417).

Arends discloses the invention substantially as claimed except for a roller feed assembly including a knock lever mechanism having a lever arm and a follower wheel wherein the lever arm is configured to contact the die as the treadle is moved towards a stationary platen carrying the die. Wittek discloses a roller feed assembly including a knock lever mechanism having a lever arm and a follower wheel (e.g., 21, 22, and end portion of 43) and a drive motor (11) for intermittently feeding the workpiece at varying lengths. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to employ a roller feed assembly as taught by Wittek on the device of Arends as an alternative structure for providing the stepwise advancing of the workpiece. Regarding claims 5, 13 and 23, the modified device of Arends discloses the invention substantially as claimed including a web guide member and guide strips (e.g., at 74 and G). The modified device of Arends fails to teach one of the guide strips being spaced from the web guide member by at least four thickness of the web. However, it would have been obvious matter of design choice to a person of ordinary skill in the art to provide the spacing between the web guide member and the guide strip of Arends to be at least four thickness of the web because applicant has not disclosed the specific spacing provides an advantage, is used for particular purpose, or solves a stated problem. One of ordinary skill in the art would have expected the spacing of Arends and applicant's invention, to perform equally well with either arrangement since both arrangements would perform the same function. It has been held that discovering an optimum value of a result effective variable involves only routine skill in the art. In re Boesch, 617 F.2d 272, 205 USPQ 215 (CCPA 1980). Regarding claims 6, 11 and 24, an article detector (e.g., 100) and the guide strips (e.g., G) are both carried by the treadle. Regarding claims 10 and 28, control circuitry (e.g., at 102).

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 1-3 are allowed.
5. Claim 14 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Irwin et al.
